

PRESIDENT TALKS TWICE AT "SOO"

Favors Power Development on St. Mary's River.

INSPECTS GREAT CANAL LOCKS

Being Almost in Canada and an Election Close at Hand, He Absolutely Refuses to Talk on Reciprocity.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 20.—When Governor Chase Osborn of Michigan arose at the luncheon given President Taft and thanked the people of Sault Ste. Marie for their applause, he said:

"I accept this kindly demonstration as an indication of your approval of my friendship for and my support of the great president of the United States."

This city gave Mr. Taft a warm reception. First they took him for a trip around the city and the school children welcomed him to town in a mass meeting on the lake front. Then Mr. Taft was taken to lunch with some hundred prominent citizens of the town. In his address at the luncheon, the first delivered here, he confined himself to the purely local subject of water power. This is the greatest local issue in the Soo. They attempted a great waterworks here some years ago and most of the principal citizens of the town invested money in the project. It failed and since then the Soo has been looking for water development. Mr. Taft told them that it they would send a committee down to Washington he would see that the war department would take the question up and attempt to reach a final settlement which would permit a use of the water of St. Mary's river, which is now going to waste, but which if utilized would be sufficient to boost Sault Ste. Marie to a city of at least 100,000 people. No discussion of political issues could have brought Mr. Taft into the hearts of the people of the Soo as rapidly and certainly as this offer did. They applauded him at every mention of the subject and his reception grew noticeably warmer after he had entered into this question.

They tried again to have Mr. Taft talk about reciprocity. He came within an inch of doing so, despite his statements at Syracuse and Detroit that he would not mention this question until it was settled in Canada. He said:

"You have Fort Brady and you have a battalion of troops there. Do you think that battalion is there for the purpose of resisting attacks on your Canadian border? Major Cloman and his men are doughty warriors. I know, but if that were the purpose we should attempt to build forts and put an army here worthy of the name. On the contrary that 4,000 miles of border has now no forts. We have no battle ships. There is nothing there to mark the difference between the two countries save some custom houses and some natural boundaries. Now that presents an example that might well commend itself to all countries and all nations."

"I am not going to talk about reciprocity because we have decided on our side that 'Barkis is willing' and on the other side the question is sub judice, and I have sufficient sense of propriety to say nothing on the subject, but merely to say that I am in a state of prayer and hope."

After luncheon the president was driven about the canal locks, through which more tonnage passes than through the Suez canal. The president then reviewed the troops at Fort Brady. He left for Marquette, Mich., at 5:25 p. m.

SENATORIAL STRIFE WAXES WARM IN SOUTHERN TERRITORY

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 16.—Since Senator Bailey announced his determination not to stand for re-election, the senatorial bee has been very active and many heads have appeared above the surface who were never thought of before as senatorial possibilities. While the junior senator has put himself out of Texas politics and thereby settled a troublesome question, the signs of the times do not indicate that the campaign for the office will be any less strenuous by the elimination of Mr. Bailey. As usual in such cases, all kinds of predictions are made as to who can or cannot capture the nomination. At present every indication points to the activity of the prohibition and anti-prohibition elements in an effort to elect a successor to the Gainesville man.

SUICIDE OF DWARF EDITOR

Aaron Reuther of Weldon, Ill., Record Prefers Death to Ridicule.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 20.—Mortified and despondent over public ridicule of his deformity, Aaron Reuther, editor of the Weldon Record, shot and killed himself while standing in the waiting room of the Illinois Traction system at Clinton. Reuther was a dwarf and was highly sensitive regarding his diminutive size.

A recent article published by Cornelius Cox of Weldon made several allusions to Reuther and his brother, calling Aaron a poor, foolish dwarf and an inmate of a feeble-minded asylum. This article appeared in a Democratic paper under the signature of Cox and was extremely severe in its allusions to the pair. Reuther immediately filed suit asking $5,000 damages, but Aaron brooded over the attack until impelled to kill himself.

ANNUAL PAST MASTERS' NIGHT, 3 ARE INITIATED

The annual Past Masters night was observed by Phoenix lodge at the Masonic Temple Tuesday evening. The Master Mason's degree was conferred upon Messrs. Forbes, Christianson and Brooks. A double session was held, the first at 4:30 in the afternoon at which time the first section of the work was conferred and the second and third sections in the evening. There was a large attendance at both afternoon and evening meetings, about 75 being present at the former and over 150 at the latter.

A banquet was held at 6 o'clock with covers for nearly 175. A program of toasts followed with M. M. Read as toastmaster. Prof. S. B. Laird spoke on "Impressions." He referred to the Eastern Star ladies who had taken such an active part in helping to assume the indebtedness of the Temple and compared briefly the new Temple in this city with others he had known. Prof. Peet also spoke and touched upon the pure food question and work in that line and added other remarks of general masonic interest.

William Webb responded to "Masonry in England" citing instances where masonry was of aid to him on his trip abroad. He stated that although a thorough Englishman he always felt more at home in Ypsilanti than elsewhere and was glad to be back.

The following Past Masters of Phoenix lodge were invited to do the work: First section—W. M. Bro. J. E. Matthews; S. W. Bro. J. H. Woodman; J. W. Bro. P. W. Carpenter; Treas., Bro. Geo. W. SPAIN IN GRIP OF REVOLUTION

Outbreaks Reported in Barcelona and Elsewhere.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED

Double Guard Placed Around King Alfonso and the Royal Family—Troops Patrol Streets of Madrid.

Bilbao, Spain, Sept. 20.—Troops fired on a crowd that was endeavoring to free prisoners, including strike leaders, who were being taken through the streets. Twenty-six persons were wounded. The situation is serious.

Madrid, Sept. 20.—Martial law has been declared throughout Spain. This means a revolution all over the Castilian kingdom. A double guard was placed around King Alfonso and the royal family.

With revolutionary outbreaks reported at Barcelona and other large cities, while the army and navy are honeycombed with disloyalty, the monarchy is facing a crisis that may result in a new European republic as a companion to Portugal.

The cabinet members are on edge for important developments. Will the army join the revolution, is the question everyone is asking.

Artillery has been posted at strategic points and other prompt steps have been taken to suppress the disorders. All telegraph wires have been cut except those to Madrid.

The governor of Barcelona says the revolutionary plot discovered has been frustrated and nine of the ten members of the revolutionary committee have been arrested.

Premier Canalejas announced that the government was in possession of all the details of the plot. It knows the names of all the persons concerned, as well as the names of those who provided funds, from what source they came, and where and by whom received.

The premier also announced that the government had information that plans were laid to assassinate General Weyler, captain general of Catalonia. It has been asserted that the committee had decided on a general strike to be accompanied with violent measures. They had obtained a quantity of dynamite with which they intended to blow up the telegraph and telephone apparatus and railways.

One of the most serious and significant disorders since the calling of the strikes in various Spanish cities was reported from the township of Cullera, which adjoins Valencia. Here a mob stormed the town hall during the trial of several men who had been arrested for participation in earlier riots of the strike.

The mob stormed into the courtroom and shot the judge to death. Before the custom-house guards succeeded in dispersing them the rioters also severely wounded several of the court officers. The dispatch was got through to the capital with great difficulty and it was impossible to learn whether the mob succeeded in freeing the men on trial, although the general impression is that it did.

The strikes continue at Corunna and Seville, but no disorders are reported up to the present.

King Alfonso has postponed indefinitely his projected visit to San Sebastian.

VICTIM OF PAINFUL ACCIDENT RECOVERING

Little three year-old Bonner Waterman, who met with an accident Saturday which resulted in the cutting of his tongue clear through, is getting along nicely.

The accident happened in Wayne Saturday when Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Waterman were going to their farm near Northville. They were obliged to wait for some time at Wayne for the Northville car and the child was playing near his parents about the streets. It is not known definitely just how it happened but it is thought that the little fellow fell over some plows which were on the streets, cutting his tongue. Mr. and Mrs. Waterman were obliged to secure an automobile and come home where the services of a physician were immediately secured.

FISH STORIES OF NEW PROPORTIONS MAY BE EXPECTED

A party consisting of Dr. Post, Mathew Max, Joe Miller and A. Cuthbert left Monday for a fishing trip to Cedar Point. They expect to be gone about a week. A number of post cards have been received from there by Ypsilanti friends relating some wonderful fish stories. It is expected that a large number of the catch will be brought home with them and distributed among their friends.

CITY OFFICIALS AND D. U. R. STRIVE TO SETTLE TROUBLE

CLEARY COLLEGE TO BE STRONG THIS YEAR IN ALL ATHLETICS

Considerable interest has been manifested in athletics this fall by the students of the Cleary Business College. A meeting was recently held and general plans for the athletic work of the year discussed. Steps were taken toward organizing a football team. Hal Riley was chosen manager and Mr. Mead coach. The captain will not be elected for two weeks as the men have not been tried out and their ability in various positions determined. A number of last year's players have returned for work this fall and quite a bit of promising new material has shown up which makes the prospects for a successful year quite promising. Among the old players who are back are Coats, fullback, Waldron who played quarterback and end, Merriman, center, and Hill, star end. Of the new material Morgan, Salo and Richards who are all big men, much is expected. There is a possibility that Kronenberg who played fullback last year will return a little later. The schedule of games will be announced later.

Mr. Brock and the officer called up Ypsilanti officers and learned that a man had passed through Ypsilanti about an hour before asking the way to Wayne. They immediately secured an automobile and took up the chase. He was located near Wayne and the party returned to Ann Arbor shortly before 5 o'clock this morning.

NEW LIGHT SYSTEM NOW INSTALLED

A number of improvements have been made recently in the City's Lighting Plant. New dynamos and other machinery have been installed during the past week and the new lights were used successfully Tuesday evening for the first time. Twenty-five new lights have been added, making a total in all of 150. There were formerly 125. Some of these have been placed on streets in the outlying districts and others have been placed in the alleysways in the business districts where they were most needed. The cost to the city of the new machinery and lights is estimated at about $13,000. The old lights had been in commission for the past 24 years.

STATE FAIR MAY BE FORCED TO CLOSE

JUDGE PHELAN SYMPATHIZES WITH STRIKERS--CONCESSIONS ARE OFFERED DURING FAIR--D. J. & C. MEN ARE STILL ON DUTY

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 21.—Labor difficulties between city street car men and traction companies reached the climax today. Not a car on the city lines was in service today and interurban cars running into the city from outside points were forced to stop at the city limits.

The city street car men have been contending for higher wages and a nine-hour day for some time but no definite agreement seems to have been reached. Cars were running on regular schedules Tuesday but this morning when men were ready to start for their work there were no conveyances. Laborers, who in many instances live several miles from the factory or office in which they are employed, were forced to walk or stay at home, office girl and school teachers in many sections failed to appear for their regular duties and it was a common thing this morning for business men as well as others who had pressing duties, to hail automobiles and trucks along the street in an effort to get a ride to their destination or a part of the way at least.

The strike went into effect at 6:20 a. m.

It was called by a meeting of the car men in Equity hall on Fort Street, in session at 3:30 this morning. The vote for a strike carried unanimously, declare the men. They say all city and interurban employees were present at the meeting, with the exception of 50.

All city lines were tied up; also all interurban lines, with the exception of the Toledo line and the D. J. & C. line, and the strikers hope to bring these lines into the tie-up also.

Mayor is Busy. Mayor Thompson was peacefully slumbering in his residence at 724 Trumbull avenue up to 8 o'clock this morning, unmindful of the tramping hosts about the streets. I will go straight to the mayor's office, call Mr. Hall in and do whatever I can," he said.

"I will not stand on formalities at

INFORMS ON HIMSELF

Arrested on One Charge, Man Tells Police He's a Bigamist.

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 20.—George Parks, alias George Betts, charged with marrying Cleah Jackson in Flint and subsequently marrying Miss Barbara Taylor in this city, in the circuit court pleaded guilty to bigamy after engaging an attorney and making every preparation to fight the case. Parks has a child by his Flint wife. Parks was arrested in Jackson on a charge of jumping a board bill here. He thought his arrest was for bigamy and admitted to the Jackson police that he had married the two women. The Jackson police took the cue and did not inform him of the board bill jumping charge, of which he did not learn until he was brought here.

MAN NEARLY SUFFOCATES

Rescued After Being Held Prisoner Five Hours.

Battle Creek, Mich., Sept. 20.—Locked in a display window on Main street, Claude D. Annis, window trimmer, came near suffocating before his friend, Henry Batt, discovered his plight and pushed a boy over the transom at Sterling Bros.' store. Annis closed the rear door to the window behind him while at work to keep out the flies. It was a spring lock and when he began to feel the lack of air he discovered that he was locked in. He was held prisoner five hours before Batt came to his rescue, and was on the point of breaking the plate glass and risking cuts and bruises. Annis was almost too weak to stand when rescued.

all, but do whatever seems best and within the limits of my influence. "Of course I want to see a peaceful settlement brought about as soon as possible."

An offer to pay the strikers the difference in money between what they are getting and what they demand if they will resume work for the remainder of the state fair period was made to the officials of the union this morning by President Newton, of the state fair, and Pres. N. P. Hull of the state grange.

If the offer is not accepted by the men and the company it is likely that the state fair will be called off.

Pres. Newton said that there are more than 2,000 farmers in the city, who have spent anywhere from $2 to $5 to get to Detroit from their homes out in the state and are now unable to get to the fair grounds.

"The fair society is willing to guarantee the men the difference if they will go back to work for the remainder of the week at least," said President Newton. "It would be impossible to postpone the fair now, and if we cannot bring about an amicable settlement for the balance of the fair period we might as well call the fair off."

What Men Want. The street car company's demand on the company are:

A wage scale of 30 cents, 28 cents and 24 cents per hour for nine hours work to be performed within a period of 13 hours. That is to say: the men are willing to work nine hours and be at the call of the company for 13 hours, provided that their pay is raised from 23, 26 and 28 cents to 24, 28 and 30 cents per hour. The men in their original demands wanted the time limit for which they should be at the disposal of the company fixed at 12 1-2 hours. They yielded, however, and finally conceded the half hour on condition that it be tried for 120 days—and then be settled finally by arbitration.

"This the company's arbitrator absolutely refused to accept," said Judge Phelan.

"The company wanted to have control of 13 hours daily of the men's time without any conditions attached to it. We were willing to grant these 13 hours tentatively and for 120 days only."

"Was the company willing to concede the new scale of wages?" the judge was asked.

"The company made no proposition on that point. A further dispute arose over the length of time during which the new agreement, if one should have been reached, was to be in force. The present agreement was to the effect that it could be abrogated only by mutual consent. The men wanted the new agreement to run for a definite period. While the company was not willing to accept that condition, still I don't think it would prove a serious obstacle to a settlement."

Phelan Gives Views.

"From the very outset the men have displayed a most conciliatory disposition."

"The wages they demand afford them a bare living. Up to four months a street car employee gets 24 cents an hour, after that and up to one year and two months he gets 28 cents and then his wage is 30 cents per hour, or $2.70 per day for nine hours' work. Upon less than that a man with a family who has worked for the company for years cannot subsist."

"Although the company from the outset of our negotiations showed little inclination to meet our demands, Mr. Monaghan, for his part, displayed every effort to reach an agreement."

"Personally I have done everything to avoid the present clash. The blame now rests entirely with the company and its managers, who have been stubborn and unreasonable."

While Judge Phelan and Mr. George F. Monaghan are negotiating, it now appears that President Mahon had discussed the controversy directly with Mr. Hutchins. These efforts, like those of the arbitrators, failed and Mr. Mahon went east.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY WAIL.

Following is the leading editorial in the last number of Leslie's Weekly. It is given as an illustration of the animus of extreme reactionary interests toward the so called progressives. It also illustrates why progressive deals are increasingly popular with the people. Leslies ought to know that the American people are not stampeded into its torpid liver way of thinking by abuse. An occasional "stick" of reliable facts would be more effective:

The Curse!

Politics is the curse of the country. If it had not been for political agitators, on both sides of Mason and Dixon's line, seeking notoriety and public office, we should not have had the terrible Civil War of 1860, with all its frightful cost of life and property. If it had not been for selfish demagogues seeking to boost themselves into public notice, we should not have had the setback to prosperity that followed the free-silver craze. And now, if it were not for bogus "uplifters" and reformers who insist on "busting" our corporations and "smashing" our railroads, the prosperity of the country would be at high tide.

The stalwart politicians of our earliest days had been enough, but the new breed disguised as "progressives," with a very few notable exceptions, are much worse. The former, it may be true, were bred in the market-places of politics; but the latter are the by-product of academies and universities, living witnesses to the truth of the old adage, "A little learning is a dangerous thing." Constituting a blatant gang of political hermaphrodites, without ability to command success, they are satisfied to achieve notoriety by proclaiming a platform of "Rule or ruin." Thus they secure a following among the ignorant the selfish, the envious and the discontented, of which we have too many in every community.

It is of no consequence to such if contented people are made discontented, if prosperity is imperiled, if wages are reduced, factories closed and panic is invited. The demagogues, muck-rakers and political upstarts have never lived by the sweat of their brows, but only by working their jaws and playing on human credulity.

Out with them, one and all! Back with Prosperity!

TRIP WITH DOG TEAM

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 19.—Twenty-six hundred miles by dog team from the Arctic ocean via the MacKenzie river to Spokane, is a trip to be undertaken the coming winter by E. S. Dowling of Spokane, who is prospecting on the delta of the northern stream and along the shore of the sea. Writing from Fort McPherson Dowling says in a letter to acquaintances in this city: "There have been but few white men over these arctic wilds, and those who have made the trip have told so little that the lay reader has not even the remotest idea of what it all means. From the beginning at Athabaska Landing, Alberta, Canada, the trip is full of thrilling experiences, which cannot be told in a letter of ordinary length. It would require a book of many pages of text and illustrations to do justice to the subject. I have arranged to pass several years in prospecting, but if all goes well I shall make the trip to Spokane with my dogs and sled during the winter." Dowling gives no indication of his success or failure in finding ground of value in the far northern district.

POSES AS MAN HE ROBBED

Alton Marshall's Catch Proves to Be Wanted in Chicago for Theft.

Albion, Mich., Sept. 20.—Saturday evening City Marshal Winchell arrested a drunken hobo giving the name of J. H. Brasher. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $2 and costs by Justice McCutcheon. He claimed his lodge would pay it and presented a pass card of the Eagles' lodge of Clinton, Iowa.

The justice became suspicious and committed him to jail for thirty days. Then he directed a letter to the Waplesville of Clinton, Ia., and made inquiry concerning the man. Later a letter from the secretary informed Justice McCutcheon that Brasher was robbed in Chicago and had just written in for a new pass card. The robber secured a gold pen, a suit of clothes, some money and several other articles from the original Brasher. When his thirty-day sentence expires Chicago officers will be on hand to take care of the hobo.

GRAY HAIRS MAKE YOU LOOK OLD

USE WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR AND YOUR GRAY HAIR WILL QUICKLY VANISH.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will offset the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandfathers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies, but Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients, which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out, and makes it beautiful.

All druggists are authorized to refund the money if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair and don't resort to old-time hair dyes. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist today, and notice the difference in your hair after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Weinmann-Matthews Co., 118 Congress street.

SPLENDID SHOWING OF FALL MILLINERYYPSILANTI MILLINERS ARE PREPARED FOR FORMAL OPENINGS WITH LARGE
VARIETY OF SELECT PATTERNS

For several seasons, milliners have been confronted with an assortment of styles which did not please the popular fancy.

Now it begins to look as though the milliners' troubles are over. This fall the hats are not extreme, nor overly expensive and look well on the head.

A wide variety of neat styles and shapes will be shown at the Ypsilanti millinery parlors this season and all are preparing for a splendid opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

It is the consensus of opinion that never before has there been such a decided change between spring and fall shapes, as well as between last fall and this.

It is probable that the old joke about the street cars not being large enough for the fashionable hats will die a natural death this fall. At least there is every indication that the small shapes will far outnumber the large ones, for Paris is running mad over small shapes. However, there will be quite as much material used as before because the crowns make up in height what they lose in width. Crown effects reaching far out over the shoulders are new and promise great popularity.

These high crowns are trimmed with pine tree effects in ostrich, or with wide wings of all lengths, usually the double wings extending far out in the back.

Large brim hats with high crowns will be in vogue for dress hats, but for general wear the small and medium turbans and cones will be most popular.

Draped hats of fancy silks will be shown for early fall wear. Some stunning effects have been produced by manufacturers to give the graceful aigrette effect, and these artificial aigrettes will be welcomed by the trade.

Ostrich remains as popular as ever and fancy ostrich designs of huge size and extreme height will be seen on the fall crowned hats.

Willows will be in great demand, although the plain colors will probably be more sought after than the variegated effects. Small willows for standing trims on small hats will be much worn. Black, white and black and white will lead.

There will be a big showing of fan and butterfly wing effects as well as the showy double wings of great length.

In hat shapes, the use of velour will be the big sensation of the season. These velours come in all shapes and will take the place of the beaver in high priced hats. There are some very good imitation velours out also, and plushes will be shown in both high and medium priced goods.

Velvet will hold its own for dress hats. Uncut velvet is the rage and this has been imitated in silk by the manufacturers for the medium priced trade.

Many beautiful iridescent silks have been brought out this season, and both double faced silks and satins are shown. Coarse and fine ribbed ottomans, repp silks and bengaline are in demand and fancy brocades and damasks show all the lustrous blendings of the Orient on their shimmering surfaces.

The trimmings are usually gorgeous. Bulgarian effects in vivid blues, greens and reds are shown in fancy bandings, and there is a regular rage for beaded effects in fringes and ornaments. Eastern splendor will prevail—Egyptian, Assyrian, Byzantine and Syrian patterns being eagerly copied and imitated.

The colors that will be most popular is a question much discussed. There is a promising demand for Corbeau in hats and in velvet, silk and satin; these use the ostrich in Copenhagen blue, with edges shaded to Corbeau. Prune shades in the velvet

Laxative Sent Free to Try

It may be taken for granted that there is no family of any size that goes very long without needing a laxative. If you don't know of a good laxative, or the laxative you are using is losing its effect, we want to call your attention to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of families are using successfully.

We have scores of letters from mothers, and scores from prominent men saying they are using it personally and giving it to their families, men like Mr. C. K. Smith of the Traffic Clearing House, Pine Bluff, Ark., and Mr. George B. Turner, a lawyer of Harlan, Ky. The thousands of mothers who use it themselves and give it to their children would take too much space to mention.

The reason they prefer Syrup Pepsin is that it is a mild, gentle laxative- tonic that does not gripe—effective and yet so mild that babies can take it. Its tonic ingredients invigorate the body and strengthen the stomach and bowels muscles so that they again do their work naturally. If you have been a victim of salts, pills and strong cathartics you will discard them when you once use Syrup Pepsin.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any druggist, but before doing so you may want to try it free. If so, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly forward a free sample bottle. Then, being convinced, do as others are doing and buy it in the regular way of your favorite druggist.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

hats, in velours and in materials, with ostrich in two tones, is more recent, and is rapidly approaching the demand for Corbeau. Titan and the copper-brown shades come next in the demand for velours, and when trimmed with a natural bird of Paradise, give wonderfully beautiful effects.

The Cayenne (or Paprika) shade is looked upon with great favor because it is so warm and harmonious with more brilliant decorations, such as the Poinsetta, and with wings in which red is introduced.

Feather butterflies give great promise of another season's popularity. Those with brilliant bodies, either solid red or variegated, with wings of white or mottled, are most frequently seen.

There is one color that it is advisable to emphasize because it is used in combinations with all other shades in the velour hats and as the facing for many velvet hats—it is called Greig—(pronounced) "graishe"—all one syllable. This is a putty color, as rich as old ivory. It makes the most beautiful contrasts imaginable. Ribbons must be coming into a season all their own very soon, if present.

SPLENDID SHOWING OF FALL MILLINERY

ent indications count for anything. They are seen in all the shades and are used with facings of black, white and grey, as well as two-color effects. Laces are seen on a great many hats and add to the rich appearance of hats in the beautiful colors I have enumerated.

Quills will be a feature of the season. They are shown in very attractive colors. The most favored novelty in this line is a green and brown quill on which a variety of colors have been painted in little strokes in a very promiscuous manner, crossing at any or all angles.

The Egyptian ornaments are apparently the most favored. Few large ornaments are seen.

There will be great quantities of white foliage, fruit and flowers used during the fall, and this may run into the winter as the brilliance of many colors will be enhanced by the contrast.

Claret, violet and morning glory tints are being featured in Paris.

The very latest in collapsible hats is the Pierrot cone in dull beige, gray or bronze colored leather.

Wing effects frequently reach the height of twenty inches.

Solid bands of peacock, guinea fowl and other small pasted feathers are used with twists of velvet and ribbon rosettes.

Bonnet and poke shapes are plentiful this season.

Tam O'Shanter shapes are immensely becoming to youthful faces.

The Mother Hubbard or Mother Goose hat is a quaint conceit, also intended for young faces.

Entire hats made of coarse, woolen yarns promise some popularity.

Putty color is a great favorite for early hats.

Bayadere-striped taffeta ribbon imprinted with a blurred Chine design is a novelty of the season.

Uncut velvet ribbon, striped in gold and black, and faced with gold cloth, is a new fall novelty.

Knife pleated frills of maline adorn coquettish cone shaped creations in Paris. The East Indian turban is the favorite of the moment. High crowns prevail in the majority of shapes.

The fad for the Berrette will probably lead to a revival of flat iron crowns later.

Every style of bonnet seems fashionable. Trimmings of worsted look good for the entire season.

Velvets and velours are the favored materials.

Changeable silks are in for a long run.

Tall, stick-up effects are seen in ornaments of all kinds, feathers and flowers.

Rich brocades are seen in ribbons and piece goods.

Wing effects are extremely popular.

Soft, dull parchment shades slightly tinged with greens, blues and reds are well liked.

Rich Irish laces are much used for brims or whole hats.

Society News

Observe Wedding Date.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coe were pleasantly reminded of their fifteenth wedding anniversary, which occurred Sept. 15, by a surprise party which was given them by a party of forty-five of their intimate friends and relatives on that evening. The first intimation they received of the advent of the company was an inharmonious chorus of cow bells, tin horns and well-beaten dish pans. After this introduction the invading company took charge of the premises. The bride and groom of fifteen happy wedded years were persuaded to don their wedding garments and were escorted to a conspicuous place where Mrs. Charles Harris in behalf of the company presented them with a fitting souvenir of the occasion, after which they were very plentifully showered with rice. Games and social conversation together with a bountiful supper served to make the occasion one to be happily remembered.

Farewell Dinner.

The public school teachers under the direction of Miss Swaine and Miss DeVoe gave a farewell dinner for Miss Marie Newberry Monday evening at the Kinne Building. Covers were laid for 35.
